INSIDER TRADING POLICY
OF
DISRUPTIVE CAPITAL ACQUISITION COMPANY LIMITED
(the Company)

1 Introduction

- 1.1 The Company was incorporated under the laws of Guernsey as a non-cellular company limited by shares.
- 1.2 The ordinary shares and warrants of the Company are admitted to listing and trading on the regulated market of Euronext Amsterdam N.V., and as such, the Company is subject to the European Market Abuse Regulation (EU) No. 596/2014 on market abuse including any delegated regulations thereto (the MAR), as well as any Guernsey equivalent legislation, rules or guidance.
- 1.3 This insider trading policy (this Policy) sets out obligations for the Company and the Company Employees with respect to the ownership of, and transactions in, the Company Securities. The MAR also requires the Company to keep a list of persons, who, on a regular or incidental basis, may have access to Inside Information.
- 1.4 This Policy aims to promote compliance with the relevant obligations and restrictions under applicable securities law, including the MAR. This Policy intends to limit the risk of the Company's reputation and business integrity being harmed as a result of prohibited or undesirable dealing in the Company Securities. This includes ordinary shares and warrants issued by the Company.
- 1.5 Inside Information is a crucial term in this Policy. In relation to the Company, Inside Information essentially refers to undisclosed information that could affect the trading price of the Company Securities. Please refer to Schedule 1 of this Policy for its legal definition.
- 1.6 The Company Employees who are required to make a notification pursuant to this Policy are responsible for the correctness and timeliness of such notification even if the Designated Person conduct such notification on behalf of such person. 8 Market Abuse

- 8.1 The Protection of Investors (Bailiwick of Guernsey) Law, 1987, as amended states that an offence is committed where a person has engaged in market abuse themselves or has encouraged another person to engage in behaviour that would amount to market abuse, whether by action or omission. Accordingly, the Commission has issued a Code of Market Conduct dealing with four behaviours that, subject to certain safe harbours laid out in the Code of Market Conduct, will constitute market abuse:

- (a) manipulating transactions which is likely to give the false or misleading impression as to the supply of, demand for or price of qualifying investments, or seeking to secure the price of qualifying investments at an abnormal or artificial level;
- (b) manipulating devices, for example taking advantage of access to the media, taking a long position in a qualifying investment and disseminating misleading positive information with a view to increasing the price of that qualifying investment and/or taking a short position in a qualifying investment and disseminating misleading negative information with a view to driving down the price of the qualifying investment;
- (c) dissemination of false or misleading information in relation to a qualifying investment; and
- (d) distorting the market.

8.2 Market abuse is therefore an offence under Guernsey law. The Commission has a broad power to take into account any facts, behaviours, circumstances, laws, rules, regulations or other matters that it considers appropriate when investigating and prosecuting these offences. As a result it is not possible to provide a definitive list of actions that will or will not constitute an offence as this will vary on a case by case basis.
